SPECIAL EVENT: Technology

Navigating the Sea of Instructional Technology at CUNY

A Forum for Instructional Technologists

January 15, Tues. 11 AM-2:30 PM NAC 4/220

WHAT:

A participatory forum for those involved with training, implementing and planning instructional technology at your respective CUNY campus. Building on a CUNY-wide survey on instructional technology and an expressed interest (at the November CUNY IT Conference) for such a forum, we will hold a meeting to discuss issues common to all campuses including:

- Visioning and strategic planning for these technologies
- Understanding the “Sea” (scope) of ITs
- Getting all campus stakeholders involved with the process
- Creating approaches to evaluate/weigh ITs in relation to campus needs
- Collaborating/sharing with other CUNY campuses

How:

Via a series of discussions, problem-solving group work, breakout sessions and presentations, participants will engage in open dialogue with their colleagues.

WHO:

Maximum of 2-3 per campus: Instructional Technologists, Directors of IT or CTL Directors, and faculty/staff involved with these technologies.
